New Global Sustainability Manager appointed at LINDAL

Hamburg, Germany – October, 2023

Global aerosol dispensing specialists, LINDAL Group has announced the appointment of Thuy-Tien Nguyen as Global Sustainability Manager

The new role represents the company's ongoing drive to strengthen the sustainability credentials of its product development, innovations and manufacturing activities, and to further advance its sustainability strategy.

Thuy-Tien will be based at the company's Hamburg headquarters, and be responsible for implementing LINDAL's Global Sustainability Agenda, developing the environmental and energy arm of existing quality management systems and taking the lead on advancing environmental performance in line with international accreditations and standards.

Holding a Master of Science degree in Biotechnology and Food technology, Thuy-Tien brings solid managerial experience within the packaging technology sector where she has guided the development of packaging solutions for variety of multinational organisations.

In her most recent post as Packaging Manager for beverage brand owner, Jacobs Douwe Egberts, Thuy-Tien led her team in the development of packaging and materials throughout the full product cycle, and in alignment with sustainability and regulatory benchmarks.

As Global Sustainability Manager, Thuy-Tien will report directly to LINDAL CEO, Francois Xavier-Gilbert. He says: “The solid experience and extensive knowledge Thuy-Tien has acquired within the sector make her a first-class fit for the role. We believe she will be instrumental in LINDAL achieving its ambitious sustainability goals and we are delighted she is on board.”

Thuy-Tien says: “It’s an exciting time to be joining the team at LINDAL, and inspiring to see such a high level of commitment to sustainability within all corners of the Group. I’m looking forward to leading the new initiatives and projects that will continue to advance LINDAL’s environmental activities and performance.”
