LINDAL unveils dual spray actuator FlipStraw

Hamburg, Germany – April 16th, 2025

Global aerosol dispensing leaders, the LINDAL Group has launched FlipStraw – a dual spray actuator with foldable straw designed for homecare and technical applications.

Offering a more streamlined assembly, lightweight design and numerous spray options, FlipStraw has already attracted a surge of enquiries following its official launch at the Aerosol Dispensers Forum in Paris. Gabriele Marchetti, LINDAL Italy's Head of Sales says: "We have been delighted to receive such positive feedback since FlipStraw was showcased at ADF. I think customers appreciate both the manufacturing and product-specific benefits, and also welcome a new alternative that is locally produced in Europe."

One of FlipStraw's key advantages is its ease of assembly to a can. Since no pre-heating or special tools are required, the manual fitting process becomes significantly more time-efficient. The weight of the actuator is significantly lighter than similar products too, and, because it is compatible with a range of LINDAL inserts, there is a wide variety of spray pattern options available if required.

Compatibility and design features

FlipStraw is compatible with LINDAL's male valves (LI) and one-inch (LIB) ball valves making it suitable for a broad variety of applications, including inverted orientation applications. There are also two different straw lengths available as standard to accommodate different can sizes.

The smart design behind FlipStraw makes it top load resistant, preventing actuation of spray during stacking and transportation. Also, to help ensure the integrity of the pack, a moulded one-time use tearaway tap is integrated into the design.

Tailored branding is possible with a finger pad that is available in red, translucent and black, with more colour options available soon. Furthermore, to help optimise packing efficiency, FlipStraw is packaged with the straw folded.

Gabriele adds: "Based on the level of orders and enquiries we have received so far, we would encourage customers and others who are interested in FlipStraw, to please contact us soon."
