A vision of eye-catching street art at LINDAL Spain

June 17th, 2025

LINDAL Spain has installed striking new artwork displaying the 'LINDAL eye' at its newly refurbished sales offices Barcelona.

The design was created by international street artist, Zurik, with the help of the LINDAL Spain team during a creative workshop organised by artist, David Andrew World. Zurik used spray cans with LINDAL actuators to create the artwork, while the team offered a helping hand to paint some of the canvas using aquarelles. The end result now adorns the entrance of the building.

Renowned for their quality, precision, and reliability, LINDAL actuators have earned recognition among graffiti artists worldwide. As a tribute to street art and creative expression, murals are now progressively appearing at LINDAL sites around the globe. From our headquarters in Hamburg, Germany, and factory in Schönberg, to our facility in Harelbeke, Belgium, the Global Innovation Centre in Briey, France, our plant in Columbus, Indiana (USA), and our site in Jundiai, Brazil—each mural reflects the creativity and innovation that lie at the heart of LINDAL.

This most recent installation in Spain adds another vibrant chapter to that journey. It also marks the third collaboration with artist Zurik, and notably, the fifth project led in partnership with artist David Andrew World, whose vision and creative leadership have helped shape LINDAL's growing artistic legacy across its global locations.

Zurik says: “The performance and precision behind LINDAL’s actuators allow street artists to create both defined and impactful artwork. In this latest project with LINDAL, I am delighted that together with the team in Spain, we have been able to craft something that is truly unique.”

Ahead of the project, LINDAL Spain’s Finance Controller, Micaela Conti saw an opportunity to introduce something vibrant and inviting to welcome visitors and employees. Micaela says: “Antoni Gaudí, whose work is prevalent throughout Barcelona, was a great source of inspiration for the design and I think the style of the piece reflects LINDAL’s association with graffiti. It was wonderful to see our whole team involved in the process.”

The new mural forms part of LINDAL Spain’s wider office renovation which has opened internal space to introduce natural light and original features, and to create private meeting rooms and a new and fresh working environment for the team.
