

Blog

LINDAL Group progressing in the roll-out of ISO 14001 certification

April 22nd, 2026

Over the past two years, LINDAL Group has made significant progress in rolling out ISO 14001 certification across multiple sites, reinforcing our commitment to structured environmental management and sustainable operations.

The certification timeline so far includes:

- Brazil – End of 2024
- Litec (Ireland) – Beginning of 2025
- Turkey, Argentina and Altachem (Belgium) – End of 2025

This structured deployment reflects our long-term ambition to harmonise environmental standards across the Group.

A major milestone: Achieving our “four-leaf clover” of ISO certifications

We are proud to announce that in December 2025, LINDAL Group’s Altachem facility in Belgium successfully achieved two additional ISO certifications:

- ISO 14001 – Environmental Management
- ISO 50001 – Energy Management

These certifications complement the standards already in place at the site:

- ISO 9001 – Quality Management
- ISO 45001 – Occupational Health & Safety

With this achievement, our Belgian site has reached an important milestone — completing its “four-leaf clover” of ISO certifications.

A commitment to excellence across all dimensions

Each ISO certification represents a structured commitment to continuous improvement and operational excellence:

- Quality (ISO 9001) ensures consistent performance and customer satisfaction.
- Health & Safety (ISO 45001) protects our people and promotes a safe working environment.

- Environment (ISO 14001) strengthens our responsibility towards sustainable and compliant operations.
- Energy (ISO 50001) drives efficiency and responsible energy performance.

Together, these four standards demonstrate a holistic and integrated approach — balancing performance, safety, sustainability and efficiency.

A first within the LINDAL Group

The Belgian Altachem site is the first LINDAL facility to achieve all four ISO certifications simultaneously. Jean Marie Poppe, Managing Director of Altachem, commented: “ We are delighted to be a frontrunner within the Group and proud of the teamwork, dedication and discipline that made this achievement possible. Obtaining and maintaining these certifications requires cross-functional collaboration, rigorous processes and a shared commitment to high standards at every level of the organisation.”

Leading by example

This milestone is not an endpoint, but a strong foundation for further progress. As Jean Marie Poppe added: “ With ISO 9001, 14001, 45001 and 50001, our facility operates under a fully integrated management system covering quality, environment, health & safety and energy.”

We hope this achievement will inspire continued progress across the Group as we strengthen our performance in quality, safety, environmental responsibility and energy management. A sincere thank you to everyone involved in this journey. This success is the result of collective effort and reflects the shared commitment of the entire LINDAL Group.